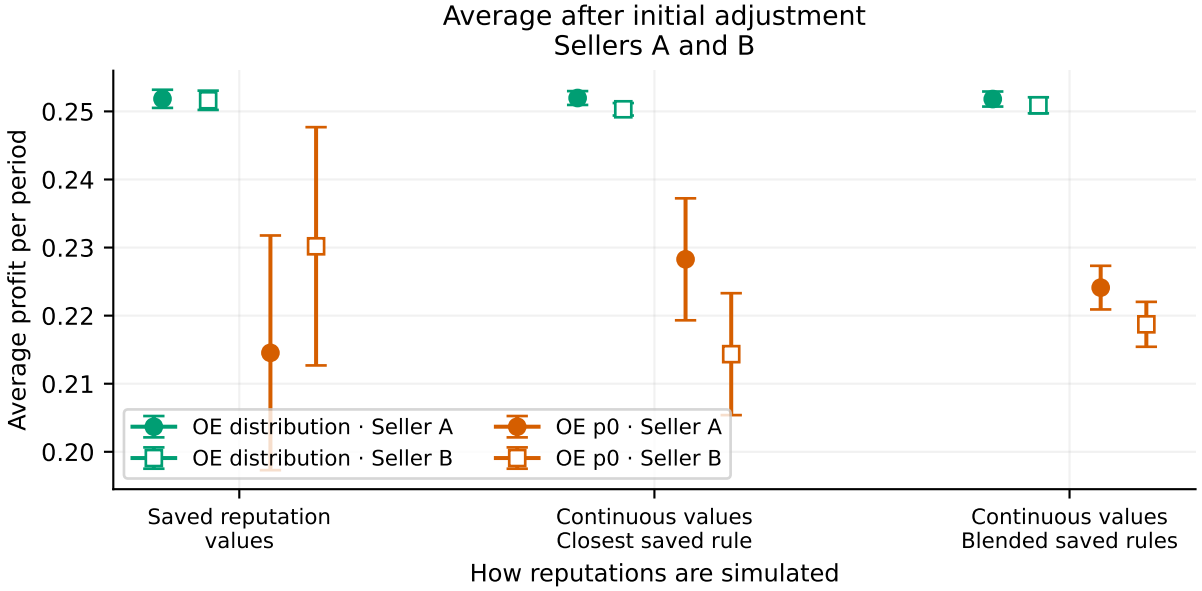
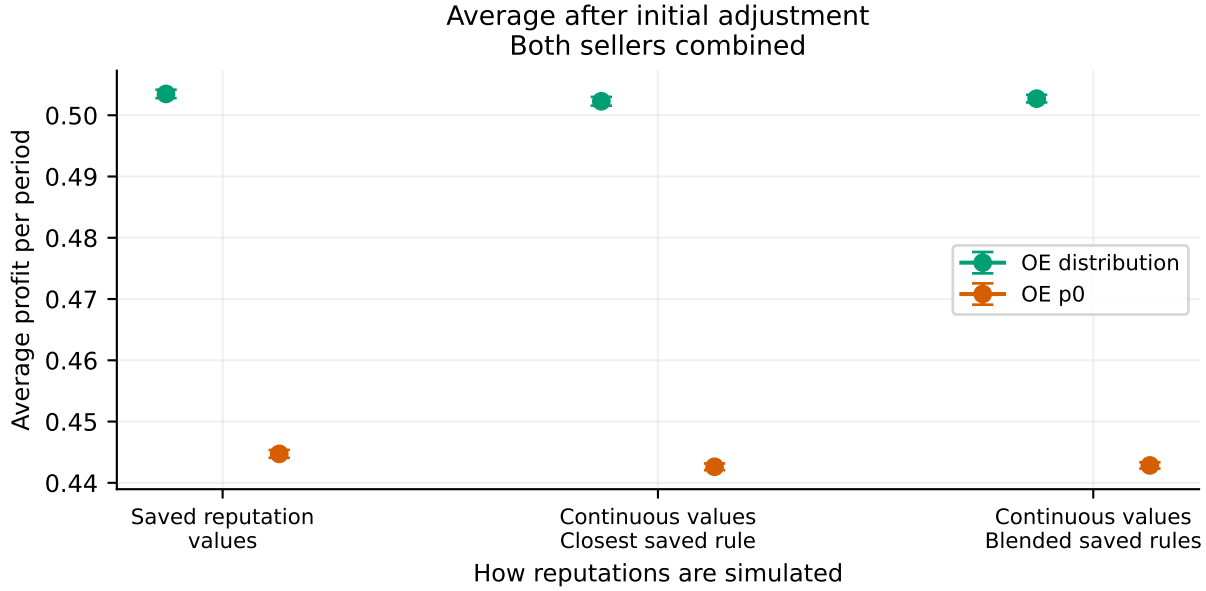
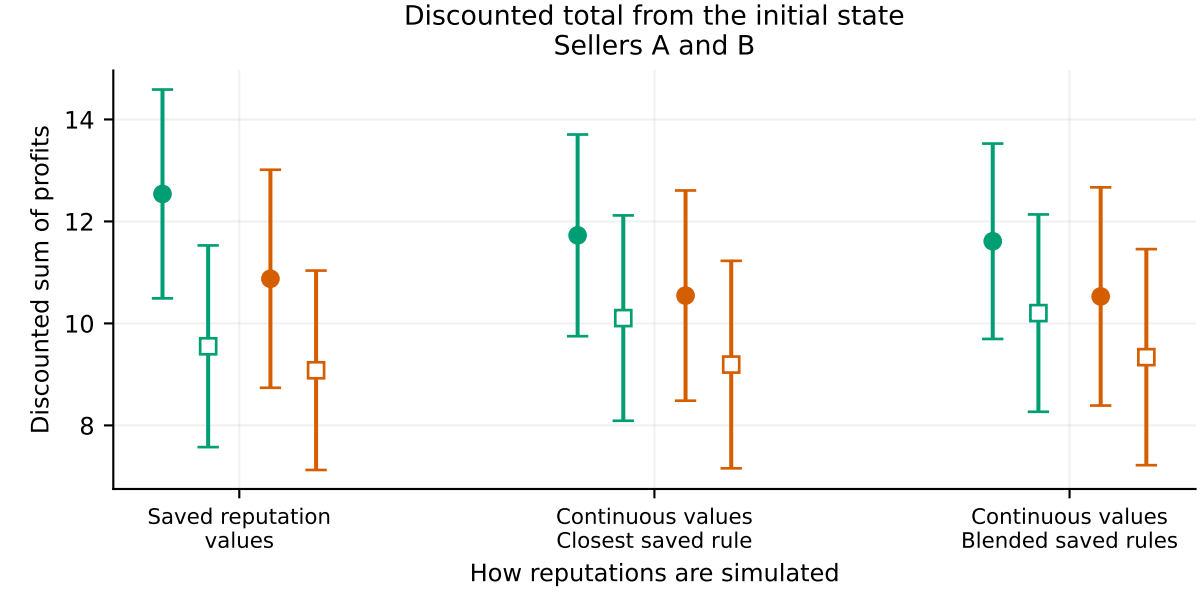
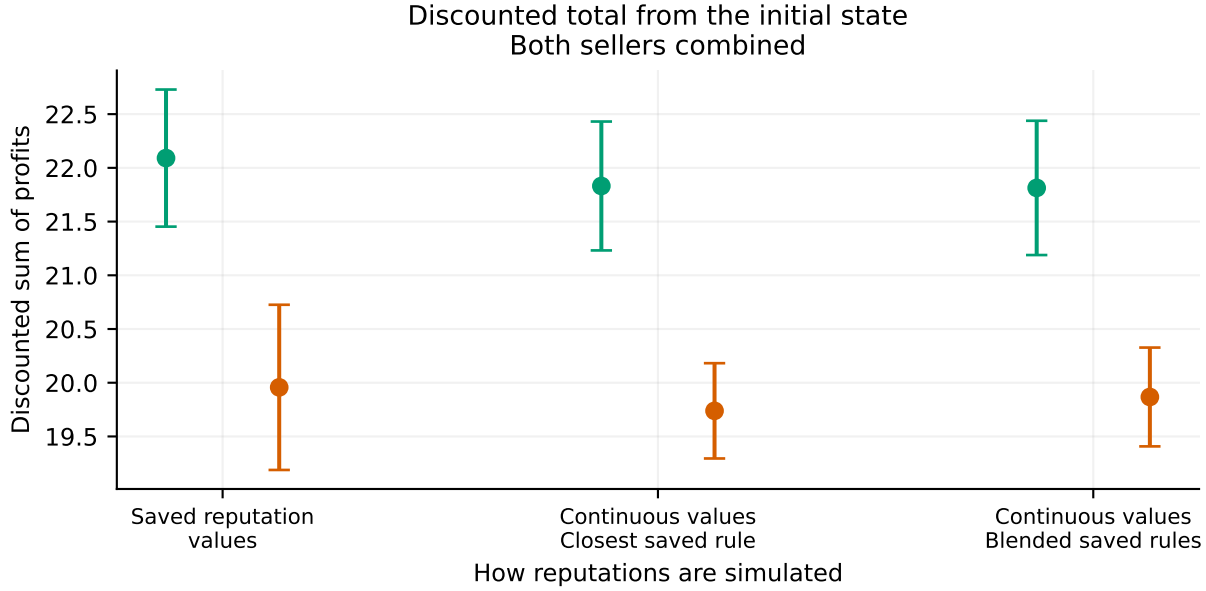
Seller profits under the saved policies
95% confidence intervals across independent simulations; discounted sums start from (0.5, 0.5)









Saved values: reputations move among the values used in the original experiments. Policies stay fixed during simulation.
Continuous values: use the closest saved product probability, or blend neighboring saved probabilities.